Three men are in the George Hospital in a dying condition as the result of attacks by unidentified assailants early yesterday, according to police. A major operation was performed on one victim in an effort to save his life, but prognosis is not good. The condition of all three is critical.

C. O. Morales, 18 years of age, of 4240 Hammel street, was found in a semi-conscious condition at Enterprise and Market streets suffering from a skull fracture believed to have been suffered in an attempted hold-up or fight, police report. He was taken to the hospital and unable to give any information.

Jose P. Loesoya of 4234 North Grand avenue, was taken to the hospital by B. Zee of 425 South Chicago avenue, a friend, following an attack by several unidentified Mexicans in front of Loesoya's home. According to Loesoya, the men jumped on him as he was about to enter his home and after beating him fled. He suffered a skull fracture and numerous lacerations.

George Peterson of 1824 East Shawan was found wandering near the vicinity of his home suffering from a skull fracture believed to have been suffered in an attempted hold-up or fight, police report. He was taken to the hospital and unable to give any information.

Well, John and Florence got married today. It was just a year ago now that they came to see the Stone show in New Haven together and I introduced them to the audience. I could see then that they were sorrier keeping company.

Well, we got Lindy and Anne going along fine now and we wish John and Florence the same. We got to dig up another love match to promote.

Yours,

WILL ROGERS.

LITTLE AMERICA (Antarctica) Sept. 23. (Exclusive)—Little America is beginning to dig itself out after the long winter. Men with snow shovels are clearing drifts which cover airplanes and everything else. The sun is on the snow and it shines brightly, although there is a cold wind from the south. To the north can be seen a dark streak in the sky reflected from open water.

Some of the dogs have been trained to pull sleds and sleds are being pulled by men, dogs and horses. Both drivers and dogs are being photographed as they alighted.

AVALON, Sept. 22. (Exclusive)—An unusual fishing feat was accomplished yesterday by George C. Thomas, 21, of Beverly Hills, who made a marlin weighing on three-six tackle.

Mr. Thomas hooked his fish one-half mile off Pebble Beach at 7:30 a.m. He fought the marlin for the right six hours, line for more than five minutes before bringing him to gaff. At the end of the battle the Aerial, Mr. Thomas' private fishing launch, was nineteen miles east of San Clemente.

The fish was gaffed at 4:30 p.m. by Capt. George Farnsworth. The marlin weighed 155 pounds.

LOVED PRELATE OF PARIS DEAD

Cardinal Dubois, Archbishop of Capital, Passes

Accord of Church and State Accredited to Him

President of France Among First to Condole

PARIS, Sept. 23. (AP) — France today lost its most popular prelate by the death of Louis Ernest Dubois, cardinal archbishop of Paris, at 73 years of age.

He was recognized as the man who had done more than any other to reconcile the Catholic Church to the lay republic and to end the long conflict which had torn France since the separation of church and state. He also was recognized for his simple piety and his devotion to the church and other worthy objects.

In 1926 he found time to attend the Eucharistic Congress in Chicago and had interested himself in many church and other manifestations, apart from his regular charges.

The cardinal's less important literary work as well as a reputation for goodness that was not limited by his creed. He had known that the end was coming for several days. He died in his bed, as if simply going to sleep, with a smile on his face.

The popularity and esteem in which he was held was attested by the condolences from people in all stations in life, beginning with President Doumergue of the republic.

Cardinal Dubois celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of his priesthood Saturday. A native of St. Calais, he was bishop of Verdun before he was named Archbishop of Paris.

FLOOD REAPS TOLL OF LIVES

damages were recorded as the result of several storms in the mountain watershed.

At Roosevelt Lake, mostly from the flow of the Salt River, which was three times its normal size today, a six-foot rise was recorded.

Coolidge Lake rose two feet, the rise being the total available water in the lake to 106,000,000 feet, and the lake level to thirty-nine feet above the penstock outlet.

Simultaneously with these reports the Phoenix Weather Bureau announced that since noon today 2.05 inches of rainfall was recorded at Benson on the San Pedro River, a tributary of the Gila.

The San Pedro, however, flows into the Gila River below Coolidge Dam, and its flow is available to the San Carlos irrigation project only as flood waters in the canal system, it being available for impounding.

The rise in Coolidge Lake is attributed to rainfall over its watershed late Sunday, the storm in that district reaching proportions at times which threatened to disrupt travel on certain roads of the area.

HEAVY RAIN DRENCHES TUCSON

TUCSON (Ariz.) Sept. 23. (AP) — With the precipitation for the last twenty-four hours registering 1.32 inches early this evening, Tucson tonight is still receiving a drenching rain.

The rainfall appears to be local in its extent, areas a few miles from the city reporting little or no fall.

FLOOD WILL DELAY LOS ANGELES TRAINS

Los Angeles-Chicago trains over the Santa Fe route will run behind schedule three hours today because of the Rio Puerco bridge approach washout in New Mexico, it was stated here last night by J. B. Duffy, general passenger manager.

Duffy said that the company's trains are being detoured both ways through Phoenix and Vaughn, N. M., causing the three hours extra time for Chicago traffic.

At Roosevelt, New Mexico, Duffy said, stated that the Rio Puerco span did not fail before the river torrent, but that the water overflowed the banks and undermined tracks at the bridge's ends.

W. K. Etter, Santa Fe general manager, said early yesterday morning for the scene to direct rock filling operations. Duffy stated that crews expect to fill in the washed out approaches today and reopen the main line this evening.

REMARK DRAWS SMILE

Shearer, sitting directly behind the witness, leaned forward and smiled at this remark.

Shortridge remarked that probably "none of the competent newspaper men here in this room" would not know that "responsible and reputable newspaper men would report that conference?"

"Yes," he replied.

"Then why did you spend $25,000 for another reporter?"

"I am sure because of his knowledge of naval affairs he would look at this conference from another standpoint."

Wakeman testified Shearer had "put it over" the shipbuilders in his $25,000 deal and attributed the arrangement to "a good man hired to use his influence on the conference?"

"Absolutely not."

"Was he to be a spy or meddler?"

CAPITAL'S DRY DRIVE LIMPING

Charges of Senator Howell
Based on "Hearsay"

Blease and Heflin Talk of Dope and Protection

Doran Not Excited Over
Washington Situation

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Sept. 23. (Exclusive)—The widely advertised drive to make Washington the dry paradise of America got off today with a limping start.

Notwithstanding help offered by Senator Blease of South Carolina and Senator Heflin of Alabama, it stalled badly like its numerous predecessors at the very beginning
through lack of evidence.

Senator Howell of Nebraska,
whose charges in the Senate Saturday brought instant challenge from President Hoover, and the model
dry city of the country, was unable to produce any evidence to enable the Department of Justice to carry out the investigation the President was ready to order.

The Nebraska Senator is a te-tostaler. He admitted it. Not because he has not had any actual contact with the liquor traffic in the District of Columbia.
He never has purchased
any liquor and knows no bootleggers.
Consequently he has no
proofs of his accusations in suppling facts
to back up the charges in his Senate speech.

MOSTLY "HEARSAY"

All the evidence the Senator was able to furnish was the name of a steamship which brought a supply of liquor to this country for the Siamese Legation ten years ago and the names of truckers for whom transported the liquor from Baltimore to the Legation. He contended
the steamship and trucking companies had violated the law against transporting liquor. The statute of limitations, he said, had not run
out on these cases. Prosecution,
however, is highly doubtful in view
of the fact that the government,
through the State Department,
acquiesced in the shipment. Otherwise,
all the Senator had to support
his charge was "hearsay" and
"common knowledge."

Senator Blease enlivened the situation
by charging today in the Senate
that four "narcotic joints" are being operated within a few blocks
of the capitol. He asserted also that their location is known to police
and Federal officials.

SHIELDING CHARGED

Blease called attention to several unsolved murders in Chinatown
near the foot of Capitol Hill and declared that police are shielding the offenders.

Mr. Heflin joined the debate.

"Police in this city and in other cities are winking at blind tigers and accepting money on the side," he declared.

But neither Blease nor Heflin had any specific facts to contribute to the dry clean-up. Prohibition Commissioner Doran viewed the situation calmly. He has become so accustomed to drives to dry
up Washington that he faces them
now without excitement.

DORAN NOT EXCITED

Prohibition enforcement in the national capital, he said, is "as satisfactory as it is anywhere in the country." He added that "enforcement is in competent hands, fully capable of doing the job and assured of co-operation of the police." He has no intention of increasing the staff of prohibition
agents operating in Washington unless Senator Howell can furnish
more specific evidence.

The ruling authorities of the District of Columbia acted a bit dazed
at the start of the White House
state.

Commissioner Dougherty in charge of the District police declined to make any response. He wanted to confer with his colleagues
before discussing with the press
what Mr. Frost, Chief of police, likewise was silent. The other official of the trio named in the White House statement as being responsible for conditions in the District, U. S. Atty. Rover, he had nothing to say. Mr. Rover
is very busy just now trying to make the citizens of the District
stop gambling on clearing-house
figures and weather reports.

MAY PASS LAW

One suggestion advanced today
was that Congress might pass a special enforcement act for the District similar to the "baby Volstead law" of the State of St. Louis. That would make each capital policeman
a prohibition agent, whereas at present only thirty-eight members
of the force are clothed with authority to go liquor hunting. Such a remedy as a new enforcement
act, however, would have no immediate value. It could not possibly be put through Congress for many months.

The conservative Washington
Star summed up the general complaints of Washington with an editorial which concluded:

"Now it would appear that nothing
is to come of the exchange of statements for the Senator's critic
has no definite charges or facts to present and it is quite impossible to conduct an investigation on the basis of 'common knowledge.'

RENO (Nev.) Sept. 23. (P)—Mrs.

The papers in the case were

'HAIRY APE' RUNS 'EM CRAZY

Translator Goes Mad in Theater and Critics Tear Hair as Paris Sees Eugene O'Neill Play

PARIS, Sept. 23. (Exclusive) — The proposed season of Eugene O'Neill's plays translated into French started out discouragingly with the Paris press unanimously scoffing at the "Hairy Ape" and O'Neill's translator losing his mind on the opening night.

Under the title, "Le Singe Vélu," quietly signs of violence that he O'Neill's drama, "The Hairy Ape," was led away by friends. He had been asked to leave the theater because of the rowdy audience, it is said, and is unable to undertake further translations.

While English-speaking reviewers had only words of praise for the impressive French performance of the play, French critics apparently were so baffled that they decided that it was all bosh.

Official government newspaper, by the marshal.

The government has been functioning under a new form of co-operation for the past three years, established by Marshal Pilsudski, formerly expelled the Cabinet in May, 1926, and appointed his friend, Ignacy Moscicki as president with practically the same power held by the President of the United States. Col. Koic said that the President and Cabinet now have the executive authority, while Parliament must hereafter limit its activities to consideration of the budget and legislation.

Marshal Pilsudski, continues Col. Koic, seems determined to end the party quarrels which made the Polish government an object of ridicule to Europe, and instead of changing every few months, the Cabinet will hereafter function for longer terms, enabling the ministries to fulfill their plans.

Eight minor amendments were adopted. By rejecting two of the Senate's restoration, House provisions designed to strengthen the antismoking laws relating to smoking opium

by making the owner, as well as the master of a vessel, liable to a fine of $25 an ounce for all such opium found unmanifested on ships.

Under the restored provisions, the

SENATE ADOPTS OPIUM MEASURE

Way Cleared for Fight on Major Tariff Issues

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23. (AP)—The Senate today disposed of ten committee amendments to the tariff bill and cleared the way for early consideration of the major controver-

sions relating to the Tariff Commission, the power of the President to change duties, and new valuation methods.

The three-dimension principle of the system is accomplished by an arrangement of coves and flutes with lamps and color media arranged so as to give different color

shades to the interior and exterior

lighting effects for theaters, office

buildings, billboards, tower illumin-

ation and flood lighting, interior

lighting of ballrooms, lobbies, auditoriums, etc.

The shade produced, Cadens explained, depends on the wattage employed for each primary color, and

also on the location of each lamp.

The design effects, he explained,

depend, in turn, on the relative position of the coves and flutes to one another.

It was further explained that

dawn and sunset effects are equally

easy to obtain, and that expert

manipulation will produce all the effects of the aurora borealis.

It was also explained that a manufacturer, notwithstanding the

law providing for exemption of common carriers in such cases unless it is shown that the owner or master

had knowledge of opium being on board.

The Finance Committee proposed

elimination of the House amendments but was turned down in both

instances without a record vote.

VOTE RECONSIDERED

A roll-call vote on the same section which was interpreted by many

Senators as relating to the opium

provisions showed fifty-four against

the committee amendment to strike

out the House language and twenty-

three for Senator Walsh, Democ-

rat, Montana, who had asked a reconsideration. This was granted

and the more rigid opium provisions of the House were placed back in the bill without a record vote.

The roll-call vote showed twenty-

four Republicans, thirty-three

Democrats for the House amendments and twenty Republicans and

thirty Democrats opposed.

Senators Blease, South Carolina;

Heflin, Alabama; and George, Georgia; Democratic and Blaine, Rep-

publican, were the leaders of the opposition to the Senate amendment.

Blaine argued that the House provisions would bring American ship-

owners to the realization that Americans, not orientals, should be employed for crews. Shipowners today insist on employing cheap

oriental labor, he said, adding that

the Chinese are inclined to refuse to divulge any information in cases involving violations of the smuggling

laws.

JOINTS NEAR CAPITAL

Please assert in the course of

debate that "four narcotic joints"

are operating near the Capitol on

Pennsylvania Avenue and that this is known to "people whose duty it is to stop it."

Citing several Chinese murders in Washington, Senator asked, "why relieve the ship-

owners from penalty if they lend

assistance to the undesirable culprits?"

"The idea that a Senator's

to relieve a shipowner and fine only

the master is something I cannot understand," Heflin said, adding that the Dollar Line had been fined

forty-odd times but had most of the

fining remitted.

The reason the law is not

enforced, he charged, is that "officers hold their hands behind them

and accept fees from the smugglers."

OTHER AMENDMENTS

Among the amendments adopted

was one exempting owners of vessels from liability in cases involving

falsity or lack of manifest on merchandise other than opium. Another

aimed to speed up entry at

customs where the original bill of

lading is not produced.

With the bill as it was, it was in the midst of an argument over

the committee amendments to prohibit the entry of articles made

abroad on which American trade-

marks or patents are held.

Senator Reed, a Republi-

cian of Pennsylvania, speaking in the Senate, called attention to the

closing down in this country and

the opening up in Ireland of a Ford

plant to produce tractors and

argued this work should be reserved

for American labor in the United States.

HOUSE CONVENES FOR

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23. (AP)—Coming after an all-summer recess,

the House held a nine-minute

session and recessed until Thursday without transacting any business.

William Tyler Page, clerk, called

the body together and read a let-

lating him to withdraw his resignation.

Longworth advised the members by letter that

because of the status of the tariff

legislation in the Senate, the House

will not undertake transaction of business until about the middle of October.

(AP) Sam (Red) Crane, former major league baseball player and Pacific Coast League star, went on trial on a charge of murder here today in connection with the slaying of his former sweetheart, Miss Delta Lyter of Harrisburg, and her companion, Jack Oren of New Cumberland, Pa.Crane will be given two separate trials, first for the killing of Miss Lyter and then for the fatal shooting of Oren.Thomas D. Caldwell, defense attorney, intimated he will ask for a second-degree verdict, while Dist. Atty. For said he will base his case on "premeditation" and demand the death penalty for the killing of Miss Lyter.The State will contend that Crane entered the saloon of Bria's Hotel here on the night of August 3, went to a rear room, and, seeing Miss Lyter and Oren at a table with another man, fired on them. Fired on Miss Lyter, Wm. Owen, manager of the hotel, told the police he had no reason to suspect Miss Lyter. Crane, the police said, fired on him and then ran from the saloon. Late that night he walked into a police station and said: "I shot I shot someone." Police said Crane was intoxicated.Crane died within a few hours of the shooting and Miss Lyter died several days later. Jealousy over the attention Oren was paying to Miss Lyter led to the shooting, the State contends.Crane pleaded not guilty to both charges in the indictment. The business of selecting a jury to try him on the charge of slaying Miss Lyter was not completed tonight.PLAY FAIR With YOUR CAR

THE modern auto is so well built that, even if it is subjected to the abuse of insufficient and improper lubrication, it will still give some service. But the time of reckoning is bound to arrive and then the owner finds himself stuck with heavy repair bills. What is still more important, he is constantly endangering himself and his passengers to accidents caused by worn or loose parts.

The wise motorist, on the other hand, starts using McBryde's Lubricating service when his car is brand new, and brings it in every 500 miles for the real lubricating. Every 1000 miles, the car is gone over thoroughly and all loose screws and nuts are tightened. Worn parts are reported to the owner in writing.

Save money and prevent accidents by using this far-sighted lubricating service.

CHAIN STORES' PRAISES SUNG

Idea Creates New Business, Owners Assert

Standardized Luxuries Now Brought to Masses

Association Holding Second National Convention

CHICAGO, Sept. 23 (Exclusive) — More than 100,000 chain stores now do the United States. Total annual sales of these stores are estimated at from $8,000,000,000 to $10,000,000,000. Considering these figures, 500 members of the National Chain Stores Association gathered for the second annual convention at the Palmer House today discussed ways and means of combating an admitted resentment on the part of other retail traders against the chain store system.

Gone is the old idea that a chain store is a community agent for the death of the independent dealers, members declared. Instead, the chain store stimulates more busi-

MUCH CRY--LITTLE WOOL; KENNY RETURNS UNSHORN

NEW YORK, Sept. 23. (Exclusive) — Twas a tempest in a teapot, "Jealousy" between barbers. Why most of 'em shave you with cold water. And all this chin wagging.

Louis Arico, barber these many years for Tammany's bigwigs, who was summoned from his basement shop back of the Hall of Records, said to us to Eustisland to cut the hair of William F. Kenny, millionaire friend of former Gov. Al Smith, returned to New York today—still the guest of Mr. Kenny.

"Louie didn't cut my hair over there," said Mr. Kenny, as he prepared to disembark from the Levi-

ness for all to prosper on. W. T. Grant, head of a string of 100 chain stores, the convention.

"The chain is creating new items that otherwise would not exist," said Mr. Grant. "When I started my first store twenty years ago there was only a handful of items available within our price range compared to the thousands offered today. We now find standardization in what used to be classified as luxuries."

"Silk stockings formerly were exclusively for the rich. Today the chain stores sell them by the millions of pairs with no apparent decrease in sales of higher priced hose. The chain stores have opened as if by magic a world once unknown to the masses."

Mr. Grant condemned the practice of selling certain items of good without profit in order to attract trade. Such practices lead to disrespect for the chain store and fool no one, he said.

One Brief Paragraph Given to Denial of Charges

STAMFORD (CT) Sept. 23. (Exclusive)—Gene Tunney's answer to the $50,000 allegation of affection suit brought against him last July by John S. Fogarty of Fort Worth, Tex., was filed in the Superior Court today by Cummings & Lockwood, his attorneys.

It consists of one paragraph of thirteen words in which Tunney denies the truth of the matters contained in Fogarty's complaint. Tunney then goes on to make a counter-claim of $100,000 against Fogarty in which the pugilist charges the Texan and his wife conspired to blackmail him.

Tunney and his bride, the former Miss Polly Lauder of Greenwich, still are in Italy at their place on the Isle of Brioni.

CAFE HELD UP BY MASKED MEN

Cash Register Rifled and $300 in Currency Taken

One Bandit Covers Score of Guests With Gun

Passing Motorist Observes Robbers, Tells Police

SAN GABRIEL, Sept. 23.—With a score of patrons and employees looking on, two masked men held up the Del Mar Garden Cafe at Del Mar Avenue and Valley Boulevard late last night, plundered the cash register of $300 and made their escape in an automobile. None of the patrons of the restaurant was molested.

So quickly and systematically were the proceedings handled that the manager left before the occupants of the room recovered from their surprise. While one of the bandits stood at the top of a short flight of steps leading to the dining-room from the main entrance, waving his revolver back and forth as he guarded the crowded booth, his companion walked to the cash register and scooped up the currency, ignoring the waiter.

The entrance of the men was witnessed by a passing motorist who saw them standing at the door adjusting their masks. He drove to a service station to telephone to the police, who arrived too late to intercept the robbers. Three men were arrested early today at Alhambra police as suspects, but were released.

JAILER'S SLAYER NAMED

Coroner's Jury Holds George Zehr Responsible for Fatal Beating of R. B. McPherson

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 23.—George Zehr was held responsible by a Coroner's Jury today for the murder of Jailer R. B. McPherson, who died Friday from concussion of the brain. McPherson was clubbed on the head by Zehr when the former entered a cell in the City Jail to prevent Zehr from strangling another prisoner, the jury was told by witnesses.

McPherson "came to his death from concussion of the brain caused by being beaten over the head with a club in the hands of Zehr administered with homicidal intent," the verdict read.

Zehr, who appeared at the inquest, told on the witness stand that he remembered nothing that happened on Tuesday morning when he beat his 7-year-old son into unconsciousness with an iron pipe and later in the day attacked McPherson.

It had been having dreams and thought the whole world was on fire. Zehr responded to one question by Coroner Schuyler C. Kelly. Dr. Louis Srahmann, police surgeon, who examined Zehr shortly after the assault upon the boy, said that it is his opinion Zehr is sane. Dr. T. Cooper, County Attorney, who is submitting Zehr to a comprehensive examination as regards his mental state, did not testify at the inquest. He has not concluded his observations, it was said. Police officers and City Jail inmates, including the guard who struck McPherson and Zehr, detailed what they saw of the encounter.

Ollie Watson, trustee, who called for aid, said he saw Zehr clubbing McPherson with an iron pipe. He was struck in the head with the pipe and was unconscious. The pipe was broken. The boy was taken to the city of Los Angeles, is exorbitant.

The plan calls for an entirely new water system to be installed. Federal agents will be turned over to the District Attorney for the grand jury and use will be learned administratively today.

The Federal men quizzed several San Diegans last week, but they have not revealed any startling developments, although there are believed to have been some. It also appears the inquest probably will not complete its inquiry tomorrow and that when it does finish, it will withhold its report pending further developments and action on the part of the City Council.

Either the Sheriff's office or the Federal men expect to make an arrest shortly. Deputy Sheriff King is to be the first to give the name of the suspect other than Zehr, who would further clarify the situation.

Copies of statements made by suspects in the liquor scandal to Federal agents will be turned over to the District Attorney for the grand jury and use will be learned administratively today.

The officials' action follows the request of the Torrance Chamber of Commerce for the investigation and is based on assertions that the present water supply, furnished by the Torrance Light and Power System, is unfit for use and that the rate of 33¢ per 1000 gallons, almost four times the rate in the city of Los Angeles, is exorbitant.

JUDGE INVEIGHS AGAINST LAW

Habitual-Criminal Statute Deployed in Court

Superior Jurist Refuses to Give Felon Life Term

One Prior Conviction Out of Three Dismissed

FRESNO. Sept. 23—Declaring the California habitual-criminal law to be "cruel and inhuman," Superior Judge Denver S. Church today refused to commit Howard H. Baker to the State penitentiary for life, although Baker faced him for sentence on a felony charge, which, with three prior convictions, would have automatically required that the court sentence him to a life term.

To obviate the necessity for the life sentence, Judge Church dismissed one of the three prior conviction counts against Baker on the ground that it was improperly filed. He also postponed sentence on the charge on which Baker was convicted last week until October 2, the dimensions of one of the prior convictions, Judge Church said that he was not condoning Baker's action, but in the belief that the statute providing for life imprisonment is "so cruel and inhuman that it will be repealed."

He pointed out that although a person convicted of murder may be released from prison in twelve years, the Habitual-Criminal Act prohibits parole.

WOLFSKILL CASE MOCKS SCIENTISTS

Condition of Body Bars Efforts of Pathologists to Solve Death Enigma

FAIRFIELD, Sept. 23. (AP)—Nature and science locked horns in the Wolfkill death enigma today and science lost the first bout. Dr. A. A. Berger, autopsy specialist, and Dr. A. M. Moody, pathologist, both of San Francisco, confessed the result of their investigation to date had failed to establish death by violence and indications are that the time of death may not be determined.

The exact time of death is believed to have a vital bearing on solution of the case. Through it officials believe there can be no doubt of Miss Wolfkill died where her body was found, slightly more than a mile from her ranch home, or if the body was taken there after she had died or had been slain.

Matt Wolfkill, younger brother of the deceased, who has continued adamant in his refusal to view his sister's body. Both he and Ney Wolfkill maintain their conviction that their sister was the victim of violence.

RELATIVES OPEN FIGHT FOR NOONAN

Survey of Mental State of Sally O'Neill's Brother Asked of New York Police

NEW YORK, Sept. 23. (AP)—Attempts by relatives to obtain commitment of Jack Noonan, brother of Sally O'Neill, Hollywood film actress, to Bellevue Hospital for ten days' observation as to his mental condition, failed today in Superior Court. Noonan is under arrest awaiting the arrival of Los Angeles officers, who have charged him with burglary of $6000 in furs and clothing in the home of Ted Lewis.

Mrs. George Powderly, Noonan's aunt, brought the commitment petition, asserting her nephew once had been confined to a sanatorium suffering from hallucinations.

The police opposed the action, stating that California officers are due to arrive Saturday with papers calling for Noonan's return to Los Angeles to face a burglary indictment.

The court continued the case until Thursday, holding Noonan without bail as a fugitive from justice. The court continued the case until Thursday, holding Noonan without bail as a fugitive from justice.

Court Cancels Wedding Plan

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 23. (AP)—The law was invoked today to postpone and possibly cancel the nuptial plans of Gustave A. Haase, 69 years of age, of Eagleville, Marin county, and Mrs. Pauline Kohl of the city, who admits to being 80. But it is said by friends to be at least 80.

Haase and Mrs. Kohl were forbidden to marry in a restraining order granted by Superior Judge Conlan pending the outcome of a suit for guardianship of the elderly bride-to-be filed by Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Anderson, friends of Mrs. Kohl.

In their petition the Andersons state that Mrs. Kohl is incompetent to manage her property, worth $20,000.

Embezzler Gets One to Ten Years

MADISON (Wis.) Sept. 23. (AP)—Gummen in ambush killed a 3-year-old child in the arms of his father in Madison's "Little Italy" last night. The father, Charles Glosi, was wounded, perhaps fatally. A shot, which hit his son, Frank in his arms, was walking through a dark alley when his attacker opened fire.

Doctors said that the child suffered the brunt of the shot, and they added, saved the elder Glosi from instant death. A liquor war is blamed for the killing.

PEACOX WILL TESTIFY AT TRIAL TODAY

Youth Accused in "Torch" Murder of Wife to Give His Account of Crime

WHITE PLAINS (N. Y.) Sept. 23. (Exclusive) — The State rested its case today in the trial of Earl F. Peacock, suave and sophisticated radio technician, 21 years of age, for the murder of his wife Dorothy last spring in a "torch killing," and the defense called as its first witness Frank H. Coyne, the co-prosecutor.

The prosecution closed with the reading of the long, emotion-charged confession Peacock made six days after the murder.

Mr. Coyne did not answer a single one of the questions Sidney Syme, defense attorney, asked him to show that information may have been withheld from Peacock's defense by the State.

The first defense witness of importance came as the afternoon grew late—John Peacock, former actor, who is Earl Peacock's uncle. He was the son of a man who was insane and were confined in asylums, the witness declared, one of them with a suicidal mania. The boy's father gave indications of the same complaint.

Tomorrow Peacock, partly freed from five months in jail, will take the stand in his fight for life to add his own story to the accounts of the crime which Mr. Coyne read to the jury as the last stage of the case.

REDS PASS AMERICANS' EXPEDITION

New York Museum Convoy First Allowed by Soviet to Enter Turkestan

MOSCOW, Sept. 23. (AP)—Equipped with three tons of supplies, 9000 feet of motion-picture film, the finest American guns and revolvers, tents, blankets, skis, snowshoes and other hunting paraphernalia, the Morden-Graves North Asiatic expedition of the American Museum of Natural History left today for Turkestan.

The expedition will hunt for specimens of the Saiga antelope and other animals for the museum. The Saiga antelope is a long, sheep-like animal frequenting the steppes of Russia and Persia. This is the first foreign expedition permitted by the Russian government to enter the forbidden countries of this little-known part of Asiatic Russia since before the World War.

William J. Morden, field associate in mammalogy in the museum and member of the expedition, had considerable difficulty in getting the government and ammunition past the government authorities as the revolution nominally is still in force in Russia.

George C. Graves of New York, who is financing the enterprise, will join the expedition in the Amur River region.

Drunk Driver Law Defined

PHOENIX, Sept. 23. (AP)—It is not necessary that a specific degree of impairment of faculties be shown to convict a motorist of driving while intoxicated, the Arizona Supreme Court ruled today in handing down an opinion upholding the Maricopa county Superior Court conviction of Charles Hasten for that offense.

The opinion holds that any one under the influence of intoxicating liquor offends against the laws prohibiting it, even though he drives so slowly and skillfully and carefully that the public is neither annoyed nor endangered.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23. (AP)—Members of the Federal Farm Board will be called before the Senate Agriculture Committee tomorrow to be examined with a view to their confirmation.

Considerable opposition to the board has developed among some members of the committee because stabilization of the wheat industry has not been undertaken, but this opposition so far has failed to crystallize into outspoken intention of preventing confirmation.

DOZEN FIRES STARTED BY FIVE BOYS

Youths Admit Igniting Brush So They Could Help Fight Blazes

MODESTO, Sept. 23. (AP)—Five boys from 12 to 21 years of age are under arrest here today, charged with setting at least twelve grain and brush fires in various sections of the county, causing several thousand dollars in loss.

Those under arrest are Lampson Pauls, 12; Stanley Pauls, 16, brothers living at Pauls Camp on the Stanislaus River, near Knights Ferry; Warren Pauls, 16, of Jamestown; Eddie George, 14, of Knights Ferry; and Leo Pauls, 21. The sheriff said all but Leo had confessed.

"We liked to see the fire truck come out and we liked to help fight the fires," the Sheriff quoted the boys as saying.

Their arrest followed a fire in Wild Cat Canyon, near Knights Ferry, Saturday night. The boys were seen playing in the vicinity of the blaze and this fact, coupled with their previous actions, led to their arrest, the Sheriff said.

MAN IMPLICATED IN FIRES BY INDIANS

STOCKTON, Sept. 23. LONDON, Sept. 23. (Exclusive)—Like a tale out of a Russian novel is the story of Albert Lord, 29-year-old chaff-cutter who was discharged from the Bow Street police station today after he had confessed to murder and offered to pay any penalty the law demanded.

The case was described by the presiding magistrate, Sir Charles E. Brown, as without parallel in all the records of English law. The case came up for hearing today. The public prosecutor admitted no body had been found and no one corresponding to the person described as the missing. No one had seen the crime. The prosecutor pointed out that if the prisoner were held over for trial and acquitted, as would surely be the case, no charge could be placed against him again, even if further evidence turned up later. The judge agreed and dismissed the case.

SAFEWAY STORE GAINS OUTLINED

Executive Forecasts Large Business Growth

Predicts $210,000,000 for Sales This Year

Los Angeles Produce Shipped Throughout Nation

Early estimates of Safeway sales for 1929 of $180,000,000 will be surpassed by approximately 20 per cent, Edward Dale, executive vice-president and manager of the Southern California division of Safeway Stores, Inc., declared yesterday. Just prior to his departure for Chicago to attend the annual convention of the National Chain Stores Association, he is vice-president of the association.

During the first eight months this year the Safeway chain system has shown an increase in percentage of sales compared with the same period last year, which is a sales record unparalleled in the history of any large business in the country, said Mr. Dale. The system operates 2600 store units and 1000 more in markets throughout the United States and in certain sections of Canada. In Southern California the company operates 700 store units and 360 meat markets.

Mr. Dale announced that the new $250,000 steel and concrete fruit and vegetable docks adjoining the Los Angeles plant will be placed in operation by November. The docks will be the largest yet to be constructed in the United States, will embrace 45,000 square feet of platform space capable of accommodating twenty-two carloads of fruits and vegetables at one time, he said.

The basement, equipped as much floor space as the platform docks will have, at a huge refrigerating plant, in which all perishable merchandise will be grown, awaiting shipment.

California-grown fresh fruits and vegetables will be shipped to Safeway stores throughout the western half of the United States, Canada and to Washington, D. C., he said.

The recent warm weather, Mr. Dale added, has kept the new ice-cream plant and creamery in Los Angeles in full operation twenty-four hours daily. During this winter the plant will be further enlarged.

The candy plant, which is also a recent addition to the Safeway system in Los Angeles, will have shipped 100 cars of candy by November 1 to Safeway stores all over the country.

Net profits for July and August were approximately $1,000,000 each month, it was stated. Plans have been laid to open factories in Chicago and New York. Products of the company are now distributed in every State in the Union except eight.

STOCK SPLIT ON PROGRAM OF UTILITY

General Gas & Electric Board Votes Five to One Offer on Common

NEW YORK, Sept. 23. (Exclusive) Directors of General Gas and Electric Company today voted to split Class A and B common stock on the basis of five for one.

The new Class A shares are to carry a priority dividend at the rate of one-half cent per share, out of a like amount on Class B common will fully participate on a per-share basis in all remaining dividends.

The priority of Class A common stock over B in liquidation will be one-fifth of the present amount and after a payment of like amount on common Class B, the common Class A will fully participate on a per-share basis in all remaining assets.

It is expected that the policy of paying an extra annual dividend on the common stock will be continued after the split-up.

George E. Lee of Lee, Higginson Company, Boston, was elected a director.

Cash Dividends of Standard Oil Group Increase

Cash dividend disbursements by companies in the Standard Oil group in the third quarter this year will amount to $65,409,801, against $50,068,102 in the same quarter of 1928, an increase of $15,341,799, or more than 30 per cent, according to a compilation issued yesterday by Carl H. Pforzheimer & Co.

Although the third-quarter dividends will be $643,482 smaller than in the second quarter, the cash disbursements for the nine months closed the 30th inst., will total $194,864,568. This compares with $156,699,778 paid out during the corresponding period last year, or an increase of $37,875,620, or about 24 per cent.

Special dividends during the current quarter were paid by Indiana Pipe amounting to $2,000,000 and Prairie Oil and Gas by regular dividends of $1,000,000 and International Petroleum Company, which doubled its share capitalization in June, paid the former rate on the increased number of shares, thereby adding $1,700,000 to the quarterly total.

Production of the Jenkins Televisor will begin without further delay and sets should be in the hands of dealers as early as October, said W. Earlier marketing of the Jenkins Televisor was postponed because of development work on a new set which, Mr. Garside stated, is superior to the old, simpler and cheaper. CHAIN BANK STOCKS ACTIVE

Probability of Amendments to Permit Wider Branch Systems Turns Attention to Holding Companies

BY EARL E. CROWE

Centering around the program for Federal legislation at the coming session of Congress to legalize the extension of branch banking, the stocks of the large bank holding companies are coming in for fresh attention in the stock market. Sponsors of the proposed legislation are confident of its passage, and predict that the change in the law will be forecast by a scramble for desirable banks and for stocks of the holding companies.

Administration forces apparently are favorable to amendments in the national banking laws if the recent statements from Washington are authoritative. Comptroller of the Currency J. W. Polk has been quoted as stating that Secretary Mellon believed branch banking would be eliminated and inflationary members of the Senate and the House are also reported to have expressed similar views.

Memphis 'Appeal' Survey Somewhat Noncommittal as to Final Outcome

BY EARL E. CROWE

So far the sentiment is more for an amendment of the law to permit national banks to operate branch systems in Federal Reserve districts, rather than a complete waiving of restrictions to allow nationwide banking. The branch plan of the belt holding companies seem to have foreseen the direction of sentiment about held its own or improved a little in baleage prospects, during the first half of September, George Fodrie, statistician for the paper, says today.

Deterioration in the Carolinas appears to have been somewhat in excess of normal.

Drought in Texas and Oklahoma was broken during the first week of September. Rainfall is in doubt and probably will not be determined until frost comes. It is generally agreed that bolls, which were opening prematurely, will make more normal development, but off-set this is a measure at least, there was considerable weather damage to grade and some lint was beaten out by heavy rains. Oklahoma and North Texas particularly received too much rainfall after the drought was broken.

Drought was broken too late probably for new fruit unless frost holds off much longer than usual. The early rate of deterioration has been checked last week and new growth has started.

Picking and ginning are well advanced in nearly all sections of the belt, notwithstanding delays due to wet weather. Picking is nearing completion in some portions of Southern Georgia and Southern Alabama. The latest reports are ample for harvesting and the general impression seems to be, given an average break on the weather, that the harvest will be completed unusually early.

Not much in the way of a top crop is expected. Weevils are reported as active in the top crop of the Carolinas and the south end of the belt; frost, unless delayed, would catch the top crop in northern sections.

London, Sept. 23. (Exclusive) Quotations on the Stock Exchange were nominal this morning, with trading almost at a standstill. Dealers have lowered quotations generally as it is feared that there may be some failures following next Thursday's settlement due to the cash drain.

RADIO SLUMPS

The selling pressure was against Radio, and several of the older recent speculative favor-

The market conditions were sound, and the business was promising, and by the end of the week the market was in a position to bid briskly for stocks at

LIQUIDATION

From stale-mate accounts inspired in part by
the bearish attitude of some of the leading financial houses, the market
on the general line to follow
the leadership of United States Steel common on the up-side also gave disappointing to pool operators.

Strength of sterling exchanged with gold for the withdrawal of gold from
the Bank of England as an increase in the Bank of England
discount rate. Fears that this action might result in a withdrawal
of some of the heavy foreign

influenced some of the selling in the market. Foreign bonds
corporations have been heavy buyers
in the call-loan market, as a result in the substantial increase
in the loans made "for the account

precious withdrawal of these

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK Sept. 23. (P.T.)—Ninety-three stocks were traded on the curb market, the volume of trading in today's curb market being the second highest for the year, while the market was at a new low ground. Generally, the unsecured money rates had a tendency to curb the enthusiasm. Particularly in view of the information that came from the leading commission houses.

Speculation for the advance was most evident in the oil stocks, which made new high records for the year, the largest gain recorded being $1.00 per share held, holders may sell at $29.00 after April 1930, one share of Standard is now selling on the York Curb Exchange at 100 per share.

Aviation shares were under pressure on selling, inspired by disappointment over the volume of orders for planes and engines, which was marked up to 20 points, but dropped nearly 20 points, to 10 points, on what appeared to be the withdrawal of the aircraft industry. Aircraft sold down 20 points to within a range of 10 to 15 points, and under industries dropped 10 to 15 points, with the year high of 20 points.

Wire service reported that the new high record was based on reports of power developments before the end of the year.

PANTAGES JURY WAITS FOR CASE

Final Arguments Scheduled to be Completed

Steuer Still Unfinished in Dramatic Plea

Costello Will Voice Reply as State Closes

year and a day from the time of the infliction of the injury from causes flowing directly out of it, the defense attorney then trained his guns on Dr. Donald Cass, State's witness and the physician who was operating on Rokumoto when the latter

Stripped of oratory, what Steuer argued was that Dr. Cass operated on the Japanese when such an operation was absurd and unnecessary and not the proper medical procedure to correct the dislocation of the hip and that the Japanese were weak into the lungs of Rokumoto, weakened from an arrested case of tuberculosis, it asphyxiated him.

It was the anaesthetic, then Steuer told the jury, that caused Rokumoto's death and he would be alive today if it had not been for the operation.

Dr. Cass, the attorney continued, sent Rokumoto to a private hospital when he was first injured and referred him to the Dickey & Cass Emergency Hospital under the terms of a contract that institution holds with the city. The lawyer argued that the doctor hurried the operation in the private hospital when he knew that Rokumoto wanted to be removed to the Japanese Hospital.

Steuer discussed at length the medical testimony in the case as he argued, waving in front of the jury, his and femur bones and that which had been introduced into the evidence. He declared that x-ray pictures of Rokumoto's body showed that no operation would have succeeded in correcting the dislocation because of torn soft bones and that a cut of torn soft bones and that a cut of torn soft bones had taken the sound for the defense and testified that the only way to have cured the patient, was by weight and stays that gradually would have knitted the torn bones together and made them strong again.

"Rokumoto died from causes over which Mrs. Pantages had no control," said the defense lawyer. "It doesn't mean at all that if it hadn't been for Mrs. Pantages he never would have been in the hospital in need of an operation. The operation was unnecessary; under normal conditions he would have been alive today despite his injuries. Mrs. Pantages is not guilty in his death."

Steuer continued his talk on Dr. Cass, to begin a scathing analysis of the testimony of Harry Lederbrink, one of the star witnesses for the State. Lederbrink, when on the witness stand, testified that he saw Mrs. Pantages in her automobile, at Beverly and Western, and Western avenue, before the accident, that she was in a drunken stupor and swore at him when he offered to assist her to park her car and get a taxicab.

"The witness swore to me," declared the defense lawyer, "that, although Lederbrink claims that Mrs. Pantages had two lines of traffic blocked for three blocks, no one came here to testify that they saw her talk to her or make the traffic stop, and he swore to me that he did not remember the correct color of her car; it seems strange to me that he drove straight up Western avenue and turned a block east, arriving at the scene of the accident after it had occurred.

The State claims that Mrs. Pantages drove her car up several other streets during which time she hit another automobile."

Lederbrink never saw Mrs. Pantages at Beverly and Western, and he sought to discredit all of the State's witness testimony.

Before Steuer began his talk to the jury, Defense Attorney Gilbert, who began his argument last Friday, concluded his remarks with this: "I am in receipt of a letter from Mr. Sweeney this morning stating that he had commenced suit, and I am writing him to discontinue my activities on it, and I regret very much indeed the filing of the suit and participation while the present proceedings are on."

When he filed the suit, Fenner included a statement in the complaint asserting that he had purchased Sweeney's claim for a "valuable consideration."

Wednesday morning.

The suit in question is that brought by Paul Arthur Fenner to collect $1863.90 asserted to have been expended and due as professional fees to Sweeney as attorney for Mrs. Pantages when she was preparing a divorce action against her husband in 1927.

Sweeney's letter to Attorney Gilbert recited that he once had employed Fenner as a collection agent and continued, in part, as follows:

"I am in receipt of a letter from Mr. Fenner this morning stating that he had commenced suit, and I am writing him to discontinue my activities on it, and I regret very much indeed the filing of the suit and participation while the present proceedings are on."

When he filed the suit, Fenner included a statement in the complaint asserting that he had purchased Sweeney's claim for a "valuable consideration."

The State claims that Mrs. Pantages drove her car up several other streets during which time she hit another automobile."

Lederbrink never saw Mrs. Pantages at Beverly and Western, and he sought to discredit all of the State's witness testimony.

Before Steuer began his talk to the jury, Defense Attorney Gilbert, who began his argument last Friday, concluded his remarks with this: "I am in receipt of a letter from Mr. Sweeney this morning stating that he had commenced suit, and I am writing him to discontinue my activities on it, and I regret very much indeed the filing of the suit and participation while the present proceedings are on."

When he filed the suit, Fenner included a statement in the complaint asserting that he had purchased Sweeney's claim for a "valuable consideration."

A band of pioneers from

The purpose

of the suit is

The suit resulted when the

State of Utah

agreed to drill for oil

in the streams.

It is contended

that if the streams are not

navigable the State

owns them.

It alone has

the taking of oil, minerals and water.

Warren of Washington

as special master is

conducting the hearing.

He will present his

findings to the high tribunal.

The hearing

began in Colorado.

ROMANCE IN PERSON

Old-timers are largely dependent on the river in these comp-

petitive days. Throughout years

after another took their

were punctuated with

of roaring rapids, about

which small

gray-haired men with

beard and eyes accustomed

to orders of the arid country

they spoke. Highly ex-

ited and little, said of

"What?" asked Judge Warren, court reporter by order of witness Wether-

ell, rattled the Navajo name

Dellenbaugh, a recognized member of the Colorado

and a member of Maj. John

Fowler's second expedition

to the West in 1875, left Green

River in 1875 with the Dellenbaugh party, and the facts are alive in memory. There were three

such twenty-two feet long

and the most singular thing about them was

they were covered and had

compartments because of the difficulty of navigating on the river.

PERILOUS TRIP

She virtually has completed a comprehensive study of the original clans of the Navajo, which

they discovered fifty-six, and of

that number fourteen now exist.

"Hundreds of years ago," Mrs.

Wetherell said, "the wiser men of the Navajo discovered that inter-

marriage within the same

clan was death.

"We have discovered that eight

of the Navajo clans had their

origin on the Pacific Coast," she said. The other clans, she believes, sprung from tribes for hundreds of miles circumjacent to

the Navajo country in North America and in Mexico, perhaps 1000

years ago.

FAIRIES VOICED

The Navajo now are a strong-

people," Mrs. Wetherell said,

and they will pull through, but it

will require close and sympathetic

official study and care while they

adjust themselves to different lives.

They are a proud,

clever people."

Neither of the Wetherells offered

it as a criticism of those in charge

of Indian affairs, but they believed that the Navajo should have their land from the expansion program and expended on

water and agricultural development on the land already owned

to produce more abundant crops

and prevent destruction of sheep

and other live stock.

"Be not forgetful to entertain strangers: for thereby some have entertained angels unawares." Hebrews xii:2.

QUESTION MARK

There are rumors in Manchuria

that Gen. Li is ready for battle. But this may be a general lie.

SOMETHING TO SWAP

The heavy trading is not all on the stock exchange. Wait until the baseball magnates get together.

SOMETHING GRATIS

Ramsay MacDonald has been accorded the freedom of the city of London. Being a true Scot Ramsay will appreciate anything that is free.

GOING DRY

Doctors and chemists now present

a sure cure for pernicious anemia. It is made from dried pigs' stomachs.

Now there may be a rush of ranchers to breed and raise dried pigs.

THE BIGGEST BANK

Another biggest bank has been

whelped. This time the National City

Bank in New York heads a $2,400,000

combination which seems to be the biggest link-up that mere money has

yet achieved in this country.

THE BIG BOSS

Boss Vare is still unable to nudge

into his seat in the Senate, but this does not impair his command of the forces in Pennsylvania. He holds them

in the hollow of his hand, but he can't

imprison them on Pennsylvania avenue

at the national capital.

PLANE SAILING

The League of Nations may not have a navy or an army, but there is strong argument in favor of the creation of a League aviation fleet. The

birdmen could serve as messengers from

Geneva and could drop either bombs or

bulletins from the skies as the situation

would demand. There is no serious objection to using winged messengers in world service.

FOR MEN ONLY

English critics are angered at hearing that in the filming of "Journey's

End" a woman will be introduced. As a war epic of No Man's Land they insight that there is no place for a girl. But that doesn't bother the movie makers.

They can ring in a beauty parade if

they happen to be in the mood or think

it will add to the box-office qualifications of the show.

PERILS OF MOTHER

According to statistics recently

compiled the maternity mortality in this country is 5.5 to the thousand maternities. In Holland it is 2.3, in Sweden, Norway 2.6 and in Italy 2.7. We have the highest death rate of any of the so-called civilized countries in this respect. Yet we surpass the young mother with more comforts and safe-

guards than will be found in any other

land. It scarcely seems plausible.

THE GENTLE TOUCH

It is reported that Ambassador

Dawes' lovely musical composition

the melody in A major—has become the rage in London. It is a beautiful air for the violin and is a favorite in the

Kreisler repertoire, but England had not heard much of it. Now its sweetness is being understood and appreciated. Here we knew it as the only melody in A major written by a major general. The funny thing is that the dainty gem doesn't sound much like

Dawes. It is a lacy little thing that should be lulled under a lady's window—but not Helen Maria.

SERVING THE FUTURE

More than 80 per cent of the oil industry in this State gives full accord to

the official conservation program as provided in recent enactment. It is agreed that promiscuous wastage of natural gas cannot go on. A government geologist asserts that if the oil industry runs wild it will soon ruin itself.

If the oil men themselves cannot get together and take steps for the conservation and economic use of the underground resources of the country the public will have to step in and provide

still more rigid regulation for the greater good. It is up to the oil men.

JOHNSON AND THE TARIFF

After basking in the California sunshne all summer while his colleague, Senator Shortridge, has been hard at work in Washington getting tariff protection for California products, Senator Hiram Johnson has returned to the nation's capital and proceeded to organize a bloc of western representatives which threatens to undo all that Senator Shortridge has accomplished.

Johnson and his bloc propose to work with a brass band. They will insure, they will threaten, they will demand, they will filibuster, they will make themselves generally obnoxious in the belief that the Senate will yield for the sake of peace. But the most probable result of their tactics will be to disgust the other Senators, to make the stubborn more so, and to arouse opposition to the whole State of California and anything it asks for on the part of men whom Senator Shortridge had already persuaded of the Justice of the State's requests.

Senator Shortridge, not satisfied with the victories for California already obtained in the Senate Finance Committee, had prepared a series of further amendments for which he had been promised support on the floor of the Senate, with a reasonable expectation of getting them adopted. He had carefully steered clear of getting California involved in any dispute with the industrial East, which also is seeking favorable tariff changes, content to make California's position clear and using its facts and nothing else to back up his argument.

Johnson's plan apparently is to make a personal fight of it, to line up western Senators against the East, and to pay no particular attention to the merits of the various schedules, merely to their sectional application. Some of the Senators with whom Johnson is allied are said to have made demands upon the Senate Finance Committee which they could not justify by economic arguments; they and Johnson will seek to force them through merely because their States want them and without regard to their effect upon consumers and the rest of the country.

There are two possible explanations of this attitude on the part of California's senior Senator. The most probable one is that he is characteristically jealous of the credit Senato: Shortridge has been getting for his hard work and its results and resentful of criticism of his own inactivity and is determined to put on a show to try to steal this credit away from his colleague; the other that he is setting out deliberately to wreck his State's tariff chances to have revenge on his critics and on Senator Shortridge. He perhaps feels also that failure to pass a tariff bill will react unfavorably on the Hoover administration, which he cordially dislikes.

Johnson's obstructive tactics, his double-dealing and his generally unpleasant disposition account for a good deal of suspicion with which, unfortunately, the State of California is viewed beyond its borders. Other States have made spectacular economic progress without arousing resentment and opposition; but such States have generally taken care not to be represented in the Senate or elsewhere by Johnsons.

WHY THIS PROBATION?

It is not likely that many will coincide with the judgment of Superior Judge Aggerle in granting probation to Perry E. Larsen, who admitted exploding six cartridges of dynamite in the offices of the Los Angeles Grain Exchange, of which he was secretary, with the object of covering up a shortage. Larsen was undeniably guilty of two serious crimes, and that the charge against him was not murder was a matter of luck. It was not fault of his that the explosion caused no injury to any person and only nominal damage to the building.

The probation officer who reported on the case recommended against probation, but the report was not accepted, and Larsen escapes punishment for his offenses. Apparently Judge Aggerle considered only one aspect of the matter—the question of whether Larsen was likely to repeat his offense. Even if it is unlikely that he will do so, or will even have an opportunity to do so, though there is no proof of either, this does not seem sufficient reason for granting leniency to a dynamiter. Assuming, for sake of argument, that society may be safe from Larsen, how about others who may be incited by the example set by him?

It is the protection of society that is paramount. The welfare of an individual criminal is of very little importance compared with it. Larsen's claim to consideration because of more than forty honest, useful and productive years, was, in fact, forfeited to the court when he stole and when he committed a second more serious crime to conceal the theft.

Prohibition is effective with 99 per cent of our population, he says. The remaining 1 per cent is trifling; but in a country with so many people, it comprises many. This 1 per cent is made up largely of "the wealthy class, the criminal class and the abandoned class," the museum and the ditch.

The Thompson exhibit furnishes about the finest example yet noted of the koodoo, a stately South African antelope with corkscrew antlers. There are also specimens of the impala and sassaby, rather rare and beautiful types of the deer "family" in Africa. The museums are right glad to get examples of these difficult and difficult beasts before they disappear.

HUNTING BIG GAME

Our museums and zoos have been receiving some notable additions of late. Col. Roosevelt and his party brought many surprise specimens from the wilds of the Himalayan country in Asia, while C. C. Thompson supplied a few wonders as the result of an expedition into darkest Africa. It will take months to mount and prepare the pets brought back by the Roosevelts and they included a number of living specimens in their catch. They not only came upon the bear that walks like a man, but the deer that barks like a dog. They have noble examples of the gaur, or sahdang, which is, perhaps, the largest type of wild ox to be found cavoring on the Asiatic continent. The animal stands six feet high at the shoulders. It is of blackish-gray color with pure white legs and is a right impressive beast. In the same family are specimens of the banteng, or wild ox of Java. Maybe not as big, but carrying longer horns and a rear exposure as gleamingly white as alabaster.

The Roosevelts also have the pelts of

the serow, or long-haired goat of Tibet,

and the great sambur of the same country.

This latter is almost as big as the exalted ruler of an Elks Lodge and carries a golden mane like a lion. The

WEDDED IN GARDEN CEREMONY Marriage Celebrated in Late Afternoon

BY JUANA NEAL LEVY
One of the most beautiful and impressive ceremonies of recent date was that performed in the gardens of the John Gillespie Bullock home in Plymouth Boulevard, Sunday afternoon when little Mary Margaret Fawcett, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard William Fawcett (John Bullock), was christened. Rev. Lindsay A. McNair, pastor of Second Presbyterian Church at Long Beach, officiating. The little lassie is the granddaughter of Mr. Bullock, and Mrs. Fawcett is a former teacher and close life-long friend of the Bullock family.

Mr. Bullock was chosen to be the godfather of the babe while Mrs. Bullock and Margaret Bullock are the godmothers.

A bowl of sabbath standing on a marble pedestal under the vine-covered pergola was the baptismal font, and the water used was brought by Mrs. Bullock from the River Jordan several years ago. An elaborate high tea was served in the gardens immediately following the ceremony.

Mr Tennis Club

Tomorrow will be Navy Day at the Tennis Club and then officers of the United States Navy will be special guests of honor of the Tennis Patron's Association. Mr. and Mrs. E. Avery McCarthy are entertaining forty officers and women from the United States Battle Fleet, and tea will be served at 3:30 p.m. when the tennis stars and honor guests will be introduced. Each year of the tennis tournament, one of the particularly bright spots has been the Navy Day.

Invitations Issued

Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Eckhardt of the Talmadge Apartments have issued invitations for the wedding of their daughter, Miss Josephine Eckhardt and Adine Wright Leonard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adine Wright Leonard of Buffalo, N. Y. The wedding will take place at 8:30 o'clock the evening of October 9, in the First Methodist Episcopal Church of Los Angeles, with the father of the bridegroom, who is a member of the Methodist Church, officiating, assisted by Dr. Elmer E. Helms.

The charming bride-elect attended Mills College for two years and was graduated from the University of Southern California, where she is a member of Beta Phi Sorority. Mr. Leonard attended Pennington School in New Jersey and was graduated from the University of Southern California with the distinction of having the highest class record in his class at commencement. He is a member of Kappa Alpha Fraternity.

Honoring her bride-elect sorority sisters from University of Southern California, Miss Kathryn Glude recently attended a dinner. Two musical guests were presented with a corsage of gardenias. A tea cup shower was featured after the luncheon.

Friday-Meyer

The marriage of Mrs. Ethelyn Friday to Emil Beyer was solemnized Friday evening at the First Presbyterian Church, Figueroa and Wilshire street, in the presence of 500 guests. Rev. Dr. George Abbott officiated. Miss Alyce Friday, daughter of the bride, was bridesmaid, and William Crowley served as best man. The Misses Elsie Juillard, Karen Jacobsen, Dorothy Edwards, Gertrude Chumley, Edna Ashway and Paula Dohrmann, with Dr. David Wright at the organ, contributed the musical program before the ceremony.

The bride was dressed in orchid velvet, with saffron, lemon, orange, roses and lilies of the valley. The bridesmaid wore pale yellow chiffon, with a bouquet of pink roses and lilies of the valley.

RS. ESTHER NORDLINGER announces the marriage of her attractive daughter, Mrs. Alice Nordin to John Newmark Levi, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Levi, the ceremony taking place Sunday afternoon, the 15th inst., at the home of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. I. F. Norton, 322 Lucerne Boulevard, at 4 p.m.

Stephen Nordinler gave his sister in marriage and Mrs. S. Marantz, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Leon Levi served his brother as best man.

Little Mona Norton, cousin of the bride, was flower girl. The ceremony took place in the gardens of the Norton home.

Reluctantly Flip left the hole and followed Bowser. He knew that Bowser would fight. But somehow he could not forget his master. As soon as he got a chance, when he thought Bowser wasn't looking, Flip slipped away and started as fast as his legs could take him over to the old stone wall. Just before he reached that hole in which he had been captured, he heard a shout. Peter's white tail as it once more disappeared down between the old stones. Peter had been out to see what was clear. Flip sniffed at the hole, he tried to pull away the stones. He barked and barked again.

"He's a noisy nuisance," thought Peter. "He's a nuisance. I hope he isn't going to stay around here long. I wonder where he came from, anyway. I hope he'll keep away from the dear Old Brier-patch. Just like you, you silly dog."

Flip acted as if he intended to stay a long time. He lay down beside the hole and panted. He was still for so long that Peter began to think he had gone away. Peter started to come up to find out what was going on. Peter made very little noise, but Flip heard him.

Instantly he was on his feet and at that hole, barking as before. He barked and barked. Bowser, over in Farmer Brown's doorway, was grinning.

By this time Farmer Brown's boy came out of the house. He heard Flip barking and went down to see what it was all about. As soon as he saw the hole in the old wall he knew who was in it. He had seen Peter use it often.

"Come away, you silly dog!" said Farmer Brown's boy. "You can't get out of there by barking."

Flip didn't want to leave, but he didn't dare disobey his master. So reluctantly he trotted along at the old stone wall. Farmer Brown's boy followed him. He went over and lay down beside Bowser. Farmer Brown's boy went into the barn to do the evening chores. Flip tried to keep quiet, but he couldn't. He got up and walked about uneasily.

Finally, when he thought Bowser was resting, he once more crept into the old stone wall. Again he had a glimpse of Peter. He just had to bark. He was so excited he couldn't help it.

So he barked and barked and tried to dig under the old wall and tried to pull apart the old stones. He didn't do very long, though.

Farmer Brown's boy finished his work and started for the house. Flip was barking down there by the old stone wall. Farmer Brown's boy smiled. "I guess that silly dog would stay there all night," he said. "He'll be all right. It's just as well."

Instantly he was on his feet and at that hole, barking as before. He barked and barked. Bowser, over in Farmer Brown's doorway, was grinning.

By this time Farmer Brown's boy came out of the house. He heard Flip barking and went down to see what it was all about. As soon as he saw the hole in the old wall he knew who was in it. He had seen Peter use it often.

"You've made trouble enough," said his master severely. "You've made a lot of trouble for Peter Rabbit and you've made a lot of trouble for me."

Giant Boeing Plane on Trip to Bay Region

Scheduled to return here tomorrow with two outstanding figures of the national aircraft industry, the giant eighteen-passenger tri-motor Boeing biplane took off from Grand Central Air Terminal yesterday afternoon for San Francisco following two days of exhibition flights over Los Angeles.

Fred Renzschler, president of United Aircraft and Transport Company, of which the Boeing Airplane and Transport Corporation is a subsidiary, and W. E. Boeing, president of the Boeing organization, are expected to return here aboard the air liner.

On its first southward flight the plane carried Postmaster-General Brown, who remained here yesterday on a stop-over during a survey of western postal conditions.

During its coming flights from Grand Central the Boeing plane took aloft more than 300 persons.

Honda-Murphy
Of much interest to Southern California circles is the announcement of the marriage Saturday in St. Louis, Mo., of Miss Alice Lee Hoxie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Hoxie, 1082 Westminister Place, and to Juanita Murphy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William D. Murphy of Pasadena, the ceremony taking place in the late afternoon in the Chapel of St. John's Methodist Church, with Rev. Evan Lee Hunt, D.D., officiating.

Following the ceremony an informal reception took place at the Hoxie home, where fall flowers in profusion were used, and Mr. and Mrs. Murphy remained in St. Louis to be honorary guests at a dancing party given by members of the Hotel Chevalier, at which the out-of-town guests also shared honors.

They are motoring West on their honeymoon and will make their future home in Pasadena.

The bride attended Mary Institute while her husband was graduated from Hotchkiss Preparatory School in Connecticut and Princeton University.

Among the out-of-town guests were included Ivy Lee of New York, wife of the bride, Francis H. Carpenter, Mrs. Elbert Carpenter and Mrs. Eugene J. Carpenter, brother and sisters-in-law of the bridegroom's mother, Miss Rosemary Pierce of Palo Alto, Miss Adele Stern of Evanston and Dan Crab of Thomas River, N. J.

Wedding Invitations
Invitations have been issued by Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Lamont Dennis of Long Beach, for the marriage of their daughter, Frances Dennis to William Montague Hunt, Jr., eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. The wedding reception is to be held at the Hotel Chevalier, with the bridegroom's parents and their relatives being invited. After their return from their wedding trip, Mr. Hunt will bring his bride to make their future home here.

Prospects Bright for Winning Football Team at San Diego State

AZTECS ADOPT TROJAN SYSTEM

Veteran Material Gladdens Peterson's Heart

Border City Athletes boast Strong Offensive

Face Stiff Schedule Against Six Conference Teams

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE
(This is the fourth of a series of articles dealing with the football teams of the Southern California Conference.)

Having shelled Pop Warner's formations "A" and "B" to no avail, the other Stanford

a little straight football, San Diegoans are looking forward to a first-class winning football team for the first time since 1929.

After using the Warner system for several seasons, Coach C. E. Petersen has come to the conclusion that the changes in the offense and defense of a large football team lacks the versatility to handle the tricky Cardinal play.

Instead, he has decided to adopt a modified U.S.C. system and has John Fox, the Trojan center, coaching the line.

Mister Charlie Savage, a lusty State rooster, reports that San Diego will have the best line in its history, one exceptionally good set of backs, and reserve material of better than average strength; but that the same is not true of the backs in State's ranks, and that no one will dare even to breathe the word "championship" until Fomona, Oxy and Whistler are dealt with.

FINE MATERIAL

There is no reason why San Diego State in a few years' time, shouldn't be right up there battling for the pigskin title every year. San Diego High School turns out some high-class athletes, and State College is now getting its fair percentage. In the case of Black Muller, California used to have an excellent San Diegan athlete; of late U.S.C. is getting its share, including Russell Saunders, but now the Aztecs are coping off a flock of Millipopper stars, and they are far from being leftovers.

Petersen's line for this year looks strong, and the team will unit on any time in the conference.

Capt. Don Ault, a two-year veteran, will lead the Aztecs at guard, and he will be flanked by another two-year man, Jimmy Hidreth. In addition Allen Nelson, Bill Estes, and with a year's experience behind them, are giving the regulars a chance. Hansen, who tips the scales at 182 pounds, is likely to get the call over Hidreth.

An Kelley, a 200-pound center from last year's frosh, has apparently ousted Joe Robinson, John Montgomery and Charlie Smith, all regulars last year, for the job. Kelley's weight will be a big advantage.

VENTURE TACKLES

At tackle, the choices have Warner Petersen, Art Walker and Paul Shee, all veterans. Walker weighs a mere 210 pounds, and Petersen is a fairly husky specimen at 186. Lawrence Peterson, frosh end last year, is making a determined bid for a regular wing position. Percy Allen, a two-year man, is one of the other ends. Hidreth has been used at end, and may play that position regularly. Hal Hansen is also showing up to advantage.

Aztecs are touting young Art Wilson, 182-pound triple-threat with a year'sarsity experience back of him as the man to pulverize all opposition this year. Art transferred from U.C.L.A. after playing frosh football with the Bruins.

The Wilson family will be well represented in the line-up this season, as Haylin Wilson, who has also played two years of varsity football, has practically clinched a halfback berth, and Jack Wilson is coming up from the frosh with virtue of calling signals. It is probable that all three will see action together on numerous occasions.

San Diego has yet another two-year letter man in Maurice Fox, who plays either quarterback or halfback. John Yamamoto is a regular last year, with also plenty of action.

Petersen has such a wealth of forward material that he is using Belmont and Smith, one a guard and the other a center, in the backfield as intercenter runners. With those two paving the way, Petersen believes he can leave the ball-packing in the hands of the Wilson brothers.

At the same time, the veterans are being forced to work for their jobs with considerable pressure being brought to bear by the year's greenbacks. Stanley Chidlow, Murray Halloway and Clayton Murdoch, a 1927 frosh star, are all out for places at guard; Gordon Cox has been catching Petersen's eye at tackle, and Laurence Peterson, as has been mentioned before, is making it tough for the linemen to get by.

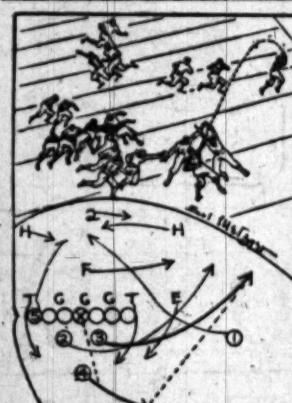

San Diego will have one of the hardest schedules of any school in the conference, with six league games arranged. That may prove an advantage, however, as the Aztecs will have an edge in the personnel column unless some team goes through the year undefeated.

The Aztecs open with a nonconference game Saturday against the California Christian College.

MASTRO VICTORIOUS IN ZORILLA BATTLE

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 23 (AP)—Earl Mastro, Chicago fighter, won a decisive victory over Santiago Zorilla here tonight in a ten-round bout. Mastro was the master in every round and floored Zorilla in his ninth. The fight was waited until the last count before getting to his feet, and hung on the remainder of the round.

Fake Run Ends Up in Pass

RABBIT PUNCHES

PAUL LOWERY

THE STANFORD DEBUT

APPARENTLY ill betides the football team which takes on Mr. Glenn Scobey Warner's Stanford boys lightly this fall, this being a natural deduction following the 45-to-5 trouncing which the Cardinals hung on the West Coast Army boys at Palo Alto last Saturday.

It will be recalled that previous to this debut of the Warner warriors the old sage of the "farm" was quoted as saying that he would not be surprised if the Army gang beat his boys.

Well, nobody can say that a 45-to-5 victory looks much like a vindication for Pop. Of course, Pop didn't expect to be vindicated in the first place, nor did he want to be, but he remembered some of the stunts made by Stanford teams in past seasons and he was cautious.

However, it naturally follows all that Pop says during the remainder of the current pigskin season will be taken with two grains of salt instead of the customary one.

If Stanford can show midseason form at the start of the season for the first time in the six years Pop has been at the Stanford helm all the predictions he makes will be given the well-known snicker up the sleeve.

Because, if you recall, Staniford has been a notoriously slow starter in year and year out with the boys handling the pigskin like a pumpkin in the early games in their effort to execute Pop's favorite single, double, triple and fake reverses.

But this looks like another year, and I hereby publicly notify the Messrs. Howard Jones, Nibs Price, Enoch Bagshaw and others who are intimately interested in the matter to beware of the Fox of the Farm and his football boys.

Remember yesterday's end run described by Stagg? "No. 1 I know," he said, "about ten yards in order to make the opposition think a pass was coming. Bang! No. 1 smashed the charging left end out of the picture and a way was then cleared for a long gallop around this end."

Note the same line-up as the Maroon against Stanford and some changes. This time No. 1 again forces the defensive left end. He goes right at him and as the defensive end side steps to evade him, No. 1 slips by into the open territory back of the defensive center. The defensive left half has to cover him, and the defensive back has to run into the vacated area with No. 2 to act as his intercenter. No. 4 passes to 3 and 3 is all but free for a score. Again Chicago takes the same formation. Let us see what the next play will be in tomorrow's release.

But with Stanford walking roughshod over the Army gang the other day when the latter had the advantage of six weeks of training to Stanford's one it looks bad for the Olympic Club.

Down here the Trojans should experience no trouble with Bill Spaulding's U.C.L.A. crew. Bill's boys are not yet ripe to give the larger conference schools a great deal of worry. Some of these days it will be a different story, but this does not look like the year.

One of the real interesting games of the week-end should be the first night game played here in over twenty years—the one featuring Occidental and Arizona at the Rose Bowl.

The games between these two teams in 1926 and 1927 were hard-fought, blood-curdling affairs which were anybody's games right down to the last whistle, and the one this year probably will be of the same type.

JOE ANDERSON SPEAKS

Mr. JOE ANDERSON, who meets Ace Hudkins, the Wildcat, at the Olympic tonight, is quite in the proper frame of mind to give the rival he beat last year in the same ring quite an argument.

Mr. Anderson rather resents the fact that they began talking up a Mickey Walker-Hudkins fight before his battle with Hudkins tonight had been settled.

"Do they take it for granted?" queried Mr. Anderson, "that because I beat Hudkins here last October I am to bow my head this time?"

"Say, I'd like to meet Walker just as bad as Hudkins does. Ace got one crack at him, but the champion has always ducked me. But if I hit Hudkins tonight, Walker will have to meet me. He can't fight a loser for the title and make any money. That's a joke."

THE COMMISSIONER CASE

COMMISSIONER JAMES WOOCSS statement the other day that he entertained no intention of resigning from the State Athletic Commission should silence the rumors emanated by peanut politicians who seek his job.

It is true the fight commissioner has hotel interests in San Francisco with Ernest Drury, but he has had them for a long time and they offer no particular reason for moving his residence to the north merely because he has resigned his Biltmore interests.

If the rumors boys really want a rumor with some foundation to it I'll give them one.

Following his proposed vacation in Europe Mr. Woods has in mind the building of the finest hotel on the Coast—in Los Angeles.

EDDIE KIENHOLZ PICKS OXY STARTING LINE-UP

Sending his charges through an intensive signal drill last night followed by scrimmage under the million-candlepower illuminating system at the Pasadena Rose Bowl, Coach Eddie Kienholz of Occidental after the practice expressed his confidence in his starting line-up for the Arizona game, but is as yet undecided on three of his forwards.

He is starting backfield probably by one of Bill Tappan, Mike Quarter, Glen Ronell and Bud Collier, halves, and Mike Howe fullback. The four linemen who have been lined up by Kienholz are Wenzel, Smith and Al DeHoag, ends; Ed Beebe, tackle, and Jerry Chappell, center.

Kienholz plans one more night's work at the Rose Bowl tomorrow night. Thursday, he has scheduled Oxy's practice for the afternoon at Patterson Field, relinquishing the night practice privileges at Pasadena to the visitors. Arizona is reported as having an unusually strong and well-balanced team this year, and Kienholz has his squad hard this week as he knows he is in for a tough game Friday.

The fact that Friday night's game is the first major football contest of the season, coupled with interest in night football as a novelty, resulted in a heavy demand for the cheap $4.00 advance-line reserved-seat tickets placed on sale yesterday, according to Phil Ellsworth, Oxy graduate manager. Select locations remain, however, at all box-offices, including B. H. Davis, 12th and Olive; Chapman of Commerce, 111 Pasadena and the College Shop, 111 South Brand Boulevard, Glendale.

Boone, Rumler Neck and Neck for Bat Honor

Ike Boone and Bill Rumler have come into a tie with batting averages of .399 for the complete twenty-six weeks of the Coast League season ending Sunday, the 22nd inst. Never has the twenty-seven-year-old circuit experienced a more thrilling contest for premier batting honors. A check-up on the past ten weeks shows the two leading switch-hitters never have been separated by more than three points. In this time at least half a dozen players have held the batting leadership. Drawing the figures to four decimal places the averages of the two leaders read: Rumler, .391; Boone, .398.
